cates Young Man Wanted Here.*IS ARRESTED IN PITTSBURG*Books Checks Not Between $70 and

Justice of the Peace, Donegan.

Arrested on two informations, one made by the Burns Detective Agency of New York City and the other by E. W. Horner, W. K. Provan, a young man claiming New York City as his home, is in the lockup pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Lawrence Donegan on the charges of forgery, false pretense and misrepresentation. No time has been set for the hearing, but it will probably be held this afternoon.

The amounts of the checks vary from $70 to $140, the latter check having been cashed by the Citizens National Bank here, on the check of a bank in New York.

On May 13 the young man went to E. W. Horner's store and represented himself as the assistant manager of McCrory's five and ten cent store. He proceeded to make a purchase of two suits of clothes and an expensive Panama hat. In payment he made a check on the Citizens National Bank. When presented for payment it was marked "No Funds." The exact amount of the check was not stated, but was in the neighborhood of $70.

The second information was made by the Burns Detective Agency of New York City. Some time earlier in May the prisoner presented at the Citizens National Bank a check for $140. It was signed by C. N. Eggert and endorsed by W. K. Provan. The check was honored and returned to the bank it was drawn on, in New York. There it was marked as the other, "No Funds."

The informations followed closely on each other. The young man was left town immediately after the checks were cashed. The Burns Detective Agency was secured by the New York bank and located the man in Pittsburgh where he was arrested yesterday. The authorities here were notified. Constable J. W. Mitchell went to Pittsburgh last night and brought him home on No. 11.

Provan is a young man of good build and appearance. In connection with the two checks that were alleged to have been forged, other informations were filed. Provan is said to have misrepresented himself will follow.

WEST SIDE VOLUNTEERS
ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR*There Are Now 31 Members in Well Organized Fire Company of That Section.

The West Side Volunteer Fire Department at a recent meeting elected officers for the coming year and outlined the plan of activities. The West Side department will be run separately from the East Side volunteers who will reorganize after council meeting to-night.

The officers elected were: President, John Torrance; Vice president, Thomas Panna; Chief, Charles Miller; Assistant Chief, Jesse Cyphar; Captain, Thomas Fagan; First Lieutenant, Joseph Strawn; Second Lieutenant, George Bunnhart; Treasurer, William Herbert; Secretary, Hal Miller. The West Side Department now has a membership of 31 out of 35 allowed.

Fire Chief John Haddock and others of the paid force who live on the West Side already belong to the department over there. Four members of the paid department live on this side of the river and will join the reorganized department here.

Fire Chief John Haddock has the names ready to present to council to-night. There will be 10 names outside of the members of the paid department. After the names are accepted at to-night's meeting steps will be taken immediately to organize. Officers will be elected at once.

NEW TEACHERS ARE SELECTED*School Board Names Three in High School to Fill Vacancies.*ATHLETIC MATERIAL THERE*One of the Men Is Football Player and Other Known Baseball. In Addition to Quite a Sufficiency of Book Learning—Salaries Are Increased.

The School Board held an adjourned meeting last night at which time three vacancies in High School were filled and salaries for the year were fixed. An increase averaging 10 per cent was given by the board. The salaries of the grade teachers range from $15 to $17.50. High School teachers from $20 to $105 and Ward Principals from $27.50 to $305. The salaries of the janitors were also fixed, ranging from $35 to $50, according to the size of the job.

The board went in for beef and bacon along with plenty of gray matter when it elected three High School teachers. Andrew E. Suble was chosen to teach mathematics at a salary of $105. Mr. Suble is a Bucknell man and also attended Shippensburg Normal. At present he is teaching at Lewisburg. He is married and makes his home in Tyrone. He was a football player at Bucknell and a good one.

Harry Weeder of East Brady was elected teacher in science, a study taught by Principal E. B. Smith. Mr. Weeder is a teacher at Paradise. He graduated from Allegheny college. He will receive $100 monthly.

Stuart Griffin of Jackson, Mich., a University of Michigan man, was elected to teach mathematics and other studies. He is a basketball player of no little ability but the fact that he has studied civil engineering and worked a couple of years in the field caught the fancy of Superintendent Ashe, who sees possibilities of giving the trigonometry class some actual field work under an experienced instructor. Mr. Griffin comes for $90 a month.

One vacancy remains to be filled. Charles D. Baer, a former Connellville boy, is an applicant. He is returning from Texas next month, and the board deferred action until after the next meeting the selection of a junior for the High School building. C. M. Miller appeared before the board in regard to the West Side taxes. After executing him of $13.02 on the 19th duplicate the matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Although the Finance Committee has estimated that the average increase for the teachers will be 10 per cent, the total list of these teachers who have already been elected is but $1,743 against $4,900 under the old schedule. At least two vacancies, and possibly more, remain to be filled, which will probably run the monthly payroll to between $5,200 and $5,300. This grand total includes all salaries, the Superintendent, High School Principal, Ward Principals, teachers and janitors.

Answer is Filed.
Answer was filed by the defendant in the case of the Moorehead Coal Company against T. H. Patton. The defendant purchased interest in certain coal lands and paid for that land with three promissory notes two of which are still outstanding. The defendant states in his answer that he has requested the plaintiff to present the notes and that he would pay them, but that was not done.

As the outcome of a quarrel said to have been brewing for many weeks, Thomas Vecondi, aged 34, laborer at the Baltimore and Ohio yards is at the Cottage State Hospital with about an inch of his nose bitten off. His assailant made a quick getaway after the assault and has not yet been located.

Vecondi and his assailant have been working side by side for a long time at the yards. Both boast with a show-maker beyond the Baptist church on Pittsburgh street and the quarrel almost reached a climax there last night. The trouble was averted however and both returned to work apparently in a peaceable mood.

The gang on which both are working was repairing a piece of track when the two men had words. Suddenly, it is alleged one of the foreigners jumped on Vecondi and began to bear him with his fists. The pair wrestled for a second and the assailant fastened his teeth on Vecondi's nose. After thoroughly masticating the nasal appendage the assailant finally managed to separate Vecondi from about an inch of his nose. Then the assailant made his escape.

A physician was called and he dressed the injured member. Vecondi was taken to the Cottage State Hospital about 10 o'clock.

Higher Education.

A quiet movement which will probably not gather force enough to become effective this year is forming in Dawson borough for a High School of its own.

Dawson borough has long been sending the graduates of the public school to the Dunbar Township High School at Leisensring. Probably from 25 to 50 pupils are averaged each year at the school across the river. This it is said is not very many children to start a High School but will prove enough for a start.

CONNELLSVILLE ON MAP FOR MOVING PICTURES

Baldrey's Jinks Efforts Mark Beginning of What May Be Important Feature.

When Charles J. Baldrey last week took a moving picture of the crowds at the opening baseball game he marked the beginning of what may prove an important local development of the moving picture business. Manager Fred Baldrey of the Solson theatre, who expects to present the pictures this week, believes that eventually a film exchange will be located here.

Mr. Baldrey expects to make a number of pictures in this section. He has already made arrangements for his first real film, which will consist of views through the coke region, such as the manufacture of coke.

The first picture, that of the baseball crowd, is not without defects, but in, within, a creditable picture. The film has been returned from New York, where it was developed in the Rex studios.

The Power Behind the Throne

If we please my lady, that is sufficient. If we make a suit which meets with her entire approval, we have done a good job. She notices things a man will never think of—she knows where slights may be made without their being apparent to the casual observer.

We aim to please a man's wife as much as we do to please him. If we didn't succeed, we couldn't have the patronage we have. If we hadn't that, we couldn't make these prices—

Dosses and Leaders.

Primaries and Parties.
The Somerset Herald, which, after a long exile from the state, has just returned to the state, has been published since the late war along with Field Marshall Flinn, and has been published since the late war along with Field Marshall Flinn, and has been published since the late war along with Field Marshall Flinn.

One might conclude from the bitterness of the attacks "machine" organs are making on Flinn that he is a candidate for office, instead of being engaged in a movement to restore the government to the hands of the people. We all know, of course, that both Roosevelt and Flinn are earnestly and unselfishly striving "to restore the government to the hands of the people," but they have carefully provided that they will act for the people and incidentally for themselves.

Concerning the "machine" organ, we would respectfully call attention to the indisputable fact that the "machine" changed hands recently at Harrisburg. Boss Penrose was dismissed and Boss Flinn installed. Concerning "bosses," it may be explained that politics being leaders who are in opposition to the "machine" are called "bosses." The greater the leader the greater the "boss."

The Courier recognizes these facts and makes no attempt to conceal them, in fact it is quite useless to do so since every intelligent voice is well aware of them; besides, there is nothing essentially evil about them. They are evil only when the leader uses his power for evil. The political boss must be judged by his works. If his public virtues predominate he is a good boss; otherwise, a bad one. Boss Flinn wasn't always a good boss, but he professed a change of heart and he should be given the glad hand. Every good Republican should recognize his authority and stand ready to serve the party under his leadership.

The Herald should not crow too loudly over its Somerset county neighbors. Its present position was somewhat of an accident, as it is not an admitted in the following paragraph:

When The Herald advised reorganization of the Republican party in Somerset county following the November election last year it had no idea the suggestion would be acted on so promptly, or so emphatically.

We must confess that it was something of a surprise party, but "The Somerset Herald" is doing right along, which is more than can be said for the Progressives, who have frequently been innocent and openly rebellious and who are even now copyrighting the "Herald" party name in some of the eastern counties. The Republican party name is good enough for all good Pennsylvania Republicans. The Pennsylvania Republican had a lot of fun with each other at the primary. It is time to get together and give the Democrats some fun in November.

The Speech of Political Comedy.
The Shoemaker Orator announces that if he is elected President he will court martial Andrew Carnegie and Charles M. Schwab, and "if they are found to be traitors order them to be shot."

It is evident that Callahan of Charleston is a candidate for something else besides President with far better prospects of being successful. If he continues to have after this fashion the authorities may reasonably conclude that his upper works need investigation.

The Shoemaker Orator has a right to submit his political claims to the Democrats of Washington county and the country, but in advocating them he should remember that he is running as a Democrat and not as an Anarchist. That he is making his plea under the protection of the Stars and Stripes of Liberty and not under the Red Flag of Riot.

Callahan's candidacy is a farce, of course, but there are limits even to the speech of comedy actors.

Canadian Railroad Policy.
Canadian railroads are building feeders across the border into the United States utterly regardless of national regulation. The Canadian Government is paternal and protective to its railroads; the American Government has not asked any toll since the Union Pacific, but it has lately been active in detaching their operation. The railroads have brought this upon themselves by their unbusinesslike and unjust methods of rate-making. The Canadian railroads have escaped similar regulation because they have avoided giving such cause of complaint.

The Best State Road.
The rivalry between the advocates of the Buttermore and Peterson routes for the State Road northward from Conneltsville has been busy preparing petitions. While the petitions will receive that consideration which they merit, it is not probable that the location of the road will be decided upon their representations alone. The route of the road should be chosen for its straight lines and easy grades. State roads are built to last, and are not expected to pass every man's test.

Health Officers.
The Health Officer of South Conneltsville is not very busy. He performed his first official act last week. Some people may think the Health Officer is an expensive institution that may be dispensed with in the interest of economy, but this is a wrong view of the matter. The Health Officer is one of those public officials whom we would rather have idle than busy reporting diseases, on the other hand, an industrious and intelligent Health Officer can find plenty to do.

A big vote is expected at the Ohio primaries. There is no reason why there should not be after the red-hot campaign of the leading Republican candidates. It is to be hoped that every voter will cast his ballot. It will be a great satisfaction to know how Ohio stands in most of the States the primary vote didn't prove much except that the preference primary is more likely to result in minority party rule than otherwise.

The United States Government has undertaken the humane duty of patrolling the ocean lanes for icebergs. The duty should have been assumed by the leading steamship lines long ago.

It was one strike and out for the Detroit, but a compromise catch put the players back on the buses, and fans now breathe easier.

There is quite a rush in the eastern part of Pennsylvania to preempt the Roosevelt party name. It's a long shot, but like all long shots it is inexpensive. The value of this political franchise depends very much on what happens at Chicago.

Chairman Gary emphatically denies that either the Steel Corporation or himself has contributed anything what over to the Roosevelt campaign. There is every reason to believe that the Steel Corporation is keeping out of politics and attending strictly to its own business.

Candidates Taft and Roosevelt have agreed upon one thing at least. Senator Root is acceptable to both as Temporary Chairman of the National Convention.

The School Board's revision of the salary list was not horizontal and arbitrary like a Democratic Revision of the Tariff, but a readjustment on the basis of merit. In the operation the sum total has been increased somewhat, but not more perhaps than was warranted under the circumstances.

Pastor Richeson has paid the penalty of his brutal and heartless crime. The last act of the tragedy is over. The curtain is down. Let it stay lowered. Let it hide the hideous things behind it.

The railroads are spending much of the money that is making the steel mills go, and they are spending it because they have to, not because they want to be extravagant. When they are fully equipped to handle good business it is to be hoped that good business will not have been sacrificed to bad politics.

Uniontown women will hereafter hesitate to tell disreputable looking strangers of the whereabouts of their husbands.

Fayette and Westmoreland are heard as well as seen at Washington; and Congressmen Craig and Gregg are modest statements, too.

In England coal operators think nothing of digging a quarter of a mile into the bowels of the earth to work a coal vein.

Connellsville has baseball players to spare.

It seems that both Conneltsville and Uniontown are afflicted with some people who would rather rob than work. Such people have no business here. Their address should be Uniontown, rear of Court House.

The B. & O. General Safety Committee examined the company's yards at this place yesterday with a view to enforcing the policy of Safety First. While the committee made no report for publication, it is not thought that they found anything radically wrong with the rules of operation here.

In the good old days when it took 3 1/2 days to journey from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, Conneltsville people didn't run over to New York every week.

Connellsville is entertaining a national convention this week and demonstrating to rival towns that it is something of a Slovak center.

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTSDALE

Evangelists Hold Large Street Meeting in Mill Town Yesterday.

REV. SAWYER NOW AT HOME

First Band Concert of Season Won Approval—Orchard Demonstration at James B. Fetter's Tomorrow. Another Physician Gets an Auto.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, May 21.—Evangelist W. E. Belders and party yesterday made the visit here which had weather had prevented two Mondays before. The party were in nine flag decked automobiles and drove together at the corner of Pittsburgh and Moner street about noon yesterday. There was a double quartette in the crowd and they led in several of the favorite hymns which have been "Thrilling Gospel" audience. Dr. Lansing, the social service expert with the party gave a short talk on religion as the need of the common, everyday life. "We have our pleasures and our business in our everyday life, and a religion that does not fit these common days falls in its claims as a religion," was one of his sayings. Dr. W. F. Belders, the evangelist, gave a short vivid talk and invited the people to come to Greenburg to attend the meetings. A good many Scottdale people have been attending these meetings. The party went from here to Mt. Pleasant, where they had dinner.

Evangelists Davis and Mills, who were here in Connellsville and Brownsville last year, and recently in Uniontown, opened a series of meetings in Scottdale on Sunday. Evangelist E. G. Sawyer, a former Scottdale mill worker, and a pastor at the Youngwood United Brethren church, who has been very successful in his evangelistic work, is here for a few days with his family, waiting the next field of work. He has been speaking for the Davis and Mills people a good deal and is connected with their work. SOMERSET, May 21.—The regular May term of criminal court convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Judge William H. Ruppel, presiding. Three murder cases are scheduled for trial. McMahon of Windsor, is the prosecutor. John Topovna, in the third case, is charged with shooting John Tolson at Confluence, on March 31, 1912. Both were employed on construction work by the Western Maryland railroad. The prosecutor is Paul Dabrowski. The Pyle case is set for trial today while the others are continued for Wednesday.

Kelley is charged with kidnapping Earl Mills, the 13-year-old son of ex-Burgess S. H. Mills of Windsor, from his home. The grand jury will be asked to find a true bill merely as a matter of form so that Kelley could be arrested if he ever returns to the county. Otherwise the statute of limitation would prevent his apprehension, as the two years' limit will soon expire, the kidnapping taking place on September 3, 1910.

Forwarned! Timely Notice

There will be an unprecedented two weeks of bargains at all the Union Supply Company's stores during the last half of May. This is a forwarned; a timely notice, for every resident of the coke region to be on hand and participate in the great bargain events. It would be a reflection on the intelligence of any man or woman who would not take advantage of this opportunity to save money and supply their homes with all the necessary wants. The high standard of quality of Union Supply Company's goods is established, and that is a feature it is unnecessary for us to talk about. We do want, however, to specify some of the sensational bargains.

First we Call Your Attention to the remarkable values that we have for women and misses, consisting of more up shirt waists, dresses, millinery, and complete line of all sorts of furnishings such as hostess, underwear, gloves, neckwear, corsets, and corset covers, laces and embroidery and all sorts of undergarments. And remember, during the balance of this month, the price on all these new fashionable goods are being cut. This sale is unique, because a sale of this time of year is simply a Union Supply Company innovation. It is giving you the advantage of cut prices; reduced prices, something all opposition merchants put off until the latter part of the season when they are obliged to throw the stock out.

CHAPTER XXVII.

The Escort.

The figure of the man approaching was hardly distinguishable, as he appeared to be leaning well forward over the saddle pommel, yet my eyes caught the glimmer of a star along a pistol barrel, and I drew up cautiously, loosening my own weapon.

"Who comes?" he questioned shortly, his low voice vibrant. "Speak quickly!"

"An officer with dispatches," I answered promptly, "riding to Philadelphia—and you?"

"We are taking a wounded man home," was the reply, the speaker riding forward. "Are you Continental?"

"Yes, Major Lawrence, of Maxwell's Brigade."

"Oh!" the exclamation was half smothered, the rider drawing up his horse quickly. I could distinguish the outline of his form now, the straight, slender figure of a boy, wearing the light jacket of a dragoon, the face shadowed by a broad hat brim.

"Unless I mistake," I ventured cordially, "you must be Eric Mortimer."

"Why do you suppose that?"

"Because while at General Washington's headquarters he mentioned that you had asked permission to take your father—Colonel Mortimer, of the Queen's Rangers—to his home at Elmhurst. You left, as I understand, an hour or two ahead of us, Am I right?"

"Yes, sir; this is Colonel Mortimer's party."

"Then we will pass on without detaining you longer, as we ride in haste."

"Merely that Tom Claire Mortimer," and lifting the hat, the young rider was revealed as My Lady.

"I met your father once; may I ask if his wound is serious?"

"Serious, yes, but not mortal; he was shot in the right side when Monks fell. His horse was hit at the same time, and the animal's death struggles nearly killed his rider. The surgeon says he may be lame for life."

"I reached out my hand, and with just an instant's hesitation, he returned the clasp warmly."

"My father is suffering too much for me to ask that you speak to him, Major Lawrence," he said a little stiffly. "Perhaps later, at Elmhurst."

"I understand perfectly," I interrupted. "I am very glad to have met you. We shall ride within a short distance of Elmhurst. Shall I leave word there that you are coming?"

"Oh, no," quickly, his horse taking a step backward, as though to a sudden tug of the reins. "That would be useless, as there is no one there."

"Indeed! I thought possibly your sister."

"The lad shook his head, glancing toward the carriage. The light moon made me think again of the wounded man we were detaining, and realising me as well of my own duty."

"Then good-night, sir. Sergeant, we will trot on."

"The lad touched my sleeve, even as I picked my horse with the spur, and I drew the rein taut in surprise."

"What is it?"

"Could you send your men forward, and ride with me a moment? You could catch up with them easily within a mile or two. I—I have a word I wish to say to you—alone."

"The voice was low, tremulous; the request one I saw no reason to refuse."

"Why, certainly. Sergeant, take your men down the road at an easy trot. I will join you presently."

"They went by us like shadows, leaving a cloud of dust behind. The boy spoke a brief word to those in charge of the carriage, and it also began to move slowly forward."

"We will go ahead," he said, smiling, "the action to the word. 'What I wish to say to you'—"

"Within a minute, riding side by side, our horses walking rapidly, we were out of sight of the lumpy shadow of the ambulance. I glanced aside curiously at my companion, noting the outline of his slender, erect figure, wondering vaguely what his message could be. Had Claire spoken to him of me? Was he going to tell me about his sister? We must have ridden a quarter of a mile before he broke the silence."

riflemen. When New Jersey was invaded, both commands came south, and, because of Eric's knowledge of this country, he was detailed as scout. This reckless life was greatly to his liking; I saw him occasionally by appointment, usually at Elmhurst, and became aware that his old quarrel with Captain Grant was seemingly forgotten. There appeared to be some understanding, some special connection between them. They met, once, at least, and I delivered one note, between them."

"Perhaps I can explain that later," I interrupted, "from something mentioned at Lee's headquarters."

"You! Oh, I wish you could, for their relationship has mystified me; has made me afraid something might be wrong with—with Eric."

"I think not, dear; say rather with Grant."

"If that be so, then it may prove the key to all the mystery. What made their intimacy so difficult to understand was that I knew the captain's dislike of Eric had in no way diminished. He spoke of him as saying, 'as ever.'"

"Perhaps he played a part—his ultimate purpose revenge."

"It might be that—yes, it might be that, and—and the consummation of that revenge may account for all which has occurred. But I must go on with what I had to tell."

I had forgotten the passage of time, the men riding steadily in advance, constantly increasing their distance, even the possible importance of the dispatch within my jacket pocket. The evident distress of the girl riding beside me, whose tale I felt sure, would fully justify her strange masquerade in male garments, her risk of life and exposure to disgrace in midst of fighting armies, held me neglectful of all else. I realized that, whatever the cause, I had unconsciously become a part of its development, and that I was destined now to be even more deeply involved. Whatever the mystery, I must solve it for her sake. My hand again sought hers, holding it in firm clasp. There was a sound of hoofs on the dusty road behind us.

"It is Peter," she whispered. "What can have happened?"

"The rider barely paused, turning his horse's head even as he spoke hastily. 'Captain Grant is with the ambulance, Mistress Claire,' he reported. 'He came up alone about five minutes ago.'"

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Before General Arnold.

I felt her hand withdrawn quickly, and the swift intake of her breath, yet there was no sharpness in the voice.

"Captain Grant, Peter? What can the man want here?"

"He claimed to be hunting deserters," returned Swanson, as calmly deliberate of speech as ever. "But that was false. He knew we were on the road, and asked for you."

"For me? And you told him—"

"Merely that you rode ahead to see that the road was clear. Then I left at once, fearing he might join you."

She sat a moment in silence, her head bowed; then looked across into my face.

"This arrival must end our conference, Major," she said soberly. "Captain Grant must not know that you are with me—that would mean fighting."

"Surely you do not wish me to run away?"

"Yes, this time, for my sake as well as your own. If I could have completed my confession you would realize the necessity. However, the fact that you are the bearer of dispatches should be sufficient; your duty to the Colonies is more important than any private quarrel. You will go?"

"Yes—but you? Are you safe with him?"

"Perfectly. I wish I might be clothed in my own proper dress, but with Peter and I naph on guard, Captain Grant alone is not dangerous. Besides, I wish to learn his purpose."

"I'll review the matter upon Eric, or possibly both combined. The latter would seem most probable. He would use Eric in some way to threaten the sister, to compel her to sacrifice herself. She was of a nature to do this, as was already abundantly proved by her assumption of male attire to save Eric's reputation. My own responsibility loomed large as I reached this conclusion, and remembered her appeal for help. She also, must suspect the truth, and had turned to me as the only one capable of unraveling the mystery. She trusted me, loved me, I now believed—and, under God, I would prove worthy of her faith. With teeth clinched in sudden determination I caught up with my little squad of plodding horsemen, and with word of command, hurried them into a sharp trot."

THE SALE OF THE SEASON

Wild West Attraction Comes

Here on Thursday, June 23

There are a number of beautiful, athletic cow girls, whose feats of equestrianism are quite as wonderful as that of their brothers, the cowboys, with the Young Eagle Wild West and Col. Cummins' Far East which will exhibit in Connellsville on Thursday, June 23. The term "cowgirl" is a misnomer, in a sense. These young women are the sisters or daughters of ranchers living in the far west. They have literally been brought up in the saddle. That these girls take any part in the "round-ups" is not fact. They may participate as spectators or enter into the work for the sport of the thing, but that is all. The cow girls with the Young Buffalo Wild West and Col. Cummins' Far East are remarkable riders. Some of them essay to ride the most notorious outlaw broncos. Prairie Rose, is the poetic name of a charming little miss of 19 summers, who spurs to ride any but the most vicious animals. On two occasions her mount deliberately threw himself backwards, pinning the girl to the ground with the pommel of her saddle. Broncos are like some men—they have no regard for the gentle sex. After taking a few days off, in which to recuperate, she insisted on re-entering the arena and riding the same animal that had injured her. The cow-girls enter the tournaments, the spectacles and the circled numbers. They make a beautiful picture in their natty, picturesque costumes.

The first steamboat to cross the Atlantic was the Savannah, which made the voyage in 1793 with air-ships since then.

THE LOCALS SLAM BALL HARD

Singles Do Not Come at Right Time and Gifts Result in Walkaway for Sharon Giants—Team Looks Awfully Good—But That Doesn't Win.

Connellsville played corner lot ball yesterday and lost 3 to 4 to Sharon. Connellsville hit the ball hard but generally with two down and none on the sacks. While the visitors were displaying generalship and all around team work, the locals were amassing a large and healthy standing in the error column. Several official errors are chalked to the home club. Unofficial ones and baseless plays would bring the list up materially. It was not altogether the home boys' fault, however. The hard luck jinx is still with the Cokers and this combined with a bad day in the field to judge flies, made it next to impossible to play good ball.

A high wind was blowing in front of the river and a ball hit to the outfield was a hard proposition to handle. Ritter apparently had everything, including a little wildness, until the ninth inning when Sharon hit him for five hits and two runs. Up to that time he had held the visitors to six scattered hits. But two of these came in an inning and none came consecutively. Connellsville again showed up badly in one inning, the first. Two errors right off the reel on the part of Danny Hart and Catcher Gibbey started the ball rolling and it was not until the Cokers had finished wildly throwing the ball to the bases and the visitors had four runs did the situation come to earth.

Miller was the only Coker who could be rightly judged to have a first class game. The southpaw first baseman was in it every minute. Three times he hit safely, once he walked and in the ninth inning with two on he had the ball started for a hit. Led played a nice game in left field. Danny Phelan made his debut in right, handling everything that came his way. Press had a bad day all around. He had an error in the field and struck out three times.

Notes.
Umpire Gochler is an old friend here. He was an official in the old West Penn league. Last year he was in the O. & P. and the year before he was in the Ohio State. He hurt his leg at Akron last year when a home runner ran into him and he now wears shin guards. Gochler started out like a home umpire but disapproved this before the game was over.

Umpire Gochler chased Manager Wilson from the coaching line in the first inning for not standing in the box. Wilson says the box is not laid out right and that he was standing in what ought to be the box.

Not to be kneeling Manager Wilson's objection of players but it would seem that if the Cokers are going to cut any figure in the pennant race it would be a good idea to secure one or two players that have had league experience. As it stands now Danny Phelan and Danny Hart are the only two who have played in the minor leagues before. Gross was with Philadelphia for a little while but this could not be termed as a time of experience as he did not get a chance to show at all.

Gibbey the new catcher secured from McKeesport showed in the practice. With the war club he did well, having three hits in four times up.

Miller played a bangup game at first. He made a corking stop from Allen's bat in the eighth inning. He made a good showing at the bat too.

It will probably be Bill Sheets this afternoon. With proper support Sheets will do something toward stopping the feisty Giants.

Manager W. C. Wilson yesterday sent a check to Manager "Red" Callahan of the Elmira New York State league team for $200 to close an optional agreement with that team for the services of Catcher Robert Foster and Pitcher Scententick until August 20. Under the optional agreement, if on August 20 Manager Callahan wants the services of the battery he will return the check for $200. Foster and Scententick will report at an early date. Manager Wilson said yesterday that he would bolster up the weak places in the lineup at once. He has lines out for an outfielder and an infielder.

A Great Sale of Summer Footwear

To Begin Thursday, This Week.

Here's unlooked-for good fortune for 93 men and 290 women, who may save $2.00 to $3.50 on a pair of oxfords or shoes.

The 383 pairs are last Summer's models, but we really wouldn't need to announce that fact because they are Common-sense styles that are in good taste whenever worn.

Last summer, when all the stores (except Wright-Metzler's) were attempting a disposal of footwear, so many shoes were on the market that we decided to hold ours over. The styles were such that no great difference could be noted in the 1911 models we had and the 1912 styles we had already seen.

No One Ever Dreamed of Such Reductions on the Very Best Footwear that Comes to this City.

At the very start of the season's best shoe selling we bring such values as no store ever gave at any time.

Prices are lower than any quoted last summer when the town was flooded with supposedly 1911 footwear. Styles are conservative and therefore not confined to any particular period. The shoes themselves are the sorts that have been proven the best all-round footwear proposition at their prices anywhere. Built for service, looks, fit and style they offer a chance for the saving of $2.00 to $3.50 on each pair.

Woman's Tan and Black Lace, Button and Ankle Strap Oxfords; $2 to $3 val. All sizes . . . $1.00

Women's Low Shoes, values to $4, Men's High Shoes, values to $5.00, Men's Oxfords, $3.50 to $5 . . . $1.50

The Syndicate Cleared a Velvet Rug Factory Out for You

Tomorrow's papers will have the news in detail. More white shoes at $1.95 will be in the sale.

About two weeks ago we secured a special purchase of velvet rugs and put a small price on them. They fairly flew! Didn't even have enough after the first day to advertise them in the papers. Neighborly advertising brought so many women to the store for their share after the rugs were sold out, and they were disappointed. We appealed to the syndicate that buys for 70 some retail stores, so they bought every rug the maker had on hand. Our share amounted to 280 rugs and the price was such that the saving is even greater than on the first lot. If you null this offer we cannot promise another like it soon.

280 Rugs---Wednesday, Thursday, Friday---Only.

69c for $1.00 Velvet Rugs, Size 18x36 inches.

$1.10 for $2.00 Velvet Rugs, size 27x54 inches.

$2.48 for $3.50 Velvet Rugs, size 36x72 inches.

Light, bright and dark colors—warranted fast—in scroll, floral and Oriental designs. Clear-cut, sharp, distinct patterns in tasteful color combinations. On sale in the Carpet-room, sixth floor.
